Turning a New Leaf

Leaf's Journey

Every road and journey has a new beginning, a first step that must be taken
Between afternoon and just before the evening sunset

On a cloud-free day

Tranquility breezes through the trees that shadow
my life

Rays of the sun filter through the leaves, highlighting life's veins

Turning the leaves luminous shades of sage

As I roam along the pathway of my life's journey
I encounter mud, rock, and cobblestones

Yet for challenges and fear, I faced them

For my journey was guided by the sun

That dried my path and shattered the rocks

A journey lined with happiness and tears

That led me to this day

Time's after sunset and the sky has turned scarlet
Like a leaf it has changed and fallen as the day draws end

A memory only to fade when dreaming
Tomorrow is another journey when light will filter in

And lead my way

Each day a new journey begins

And the evening sunset will come to pass again.

It is time to begin a journey and turn a new leaf..

A New Leaf

For the first time in over 30 years, two days of class were cancelled because of snow.

The Oglebay Gates and tower of Old Main beckon to all who step into the world of Bethany. Though Bethany has been in existence since 1840, the school and the people are continually changing.

Turning a New Leaf

Throughout the life of a leaf, changes occur that affect not only the leaf itself, but the environment around it. The leaf begins young, immature, full of potential, and slowly grows and changes in preparation for the next stage in its life. Like a leaf, Bethany College and its students have grown and changed in preparation for a new journey. The pathway for this journey was paved by a tuition reduction that led to a record number of new students, success in academics and sports, the loss of two Greek houses, and, of course, a new president. However, these are but a few of the changes Bethany College has faced in the year 2003. For many students, this journey has just begun, while still more are somewhere in the middle. Finally, for seniors, this journey is drawing to an end. No matter what stage of the journey, Bethany College and its students are turning a new leaf.

Junior Eric Day performed at the rally for peace held following Founder's Day Convocation. Many students used a variety of outlets to express their opinions about the war in Iraq.

Pictured below is the six member cast of "Cardenio," the Elizabethan classic that took the Bethany stage in February. The fall theatre season also included "All in the Timing," a group of six short plays.

Seasons of change...

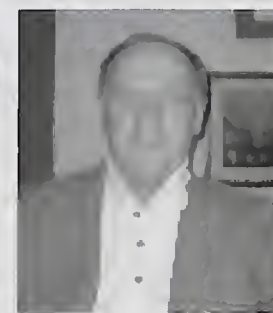

Above: Dean of Academic Affairs leaves Bethany

After serving as VP for Academic Affairs and Dean of Faculty for 5 years, Pamela Balch left Bethany to become president of Mayville State University in North Dakota.

Above: VP for Enrollment heads to Charlotte

In the spring VP Brian Ralph announced that he would leave Bethany to take on a similar position, Vice President of Enrollment, at Queens University in Charlotte, NC.

Above: Cunningham takes on new role

Early second semester it was announced that John Cunningham would be relocated from VP for Student Affairs and Dean of Students to a position in alumni relations.

Above: Knechel named VP of Advancement

In April, the college announced the selection of Robert W. Knechel to serve as Vice President for Advancement. He officially took office July 1st.

Above: New faces in administration

In addition to Cunningham's relocation from the Dean of Students office, the college also selected Paul Kingsbury to take over as Associate Dean of Students. Senior Lauren Spang took a position to assist with issues in residence life. In the fall, Sandy Neel replaced John Geismann as Registrar.

In a year of turmoil across the world, Bethany did not go unaffected. As war with Iraq approached and became a reality, a peace group formed on campus to express their views and educate the community on peaceful alternatives. While some students found outlets for expressing their creativity through theater and snow art, still others created a safe haven for children that allows kids to travel the world through books.

Above: Frosty the Snowman
Heavy snow in the northeast forced the cancellation of classes for two days. Students enjoyed the more than 16 inches of snow by making snowmen and having snow ball fights.

Above: Story hour

In September, Kids Korner opened at Phillips Library with a story hour by Bethany alum and children's author Marc Harshman. Kids Korner was created thanks to the work of the library staff and senior Leslie Lacaria.

Below: Bethany Idol
SAC held a contest to find Bethany's version of "American Idol." Sarah Kudrin, center, was named the Bethany Idol and opened for comedian Dave Attell.

Right: Fall into the Well
The Well was established this year as another form of student ministry. This club brings a new dimension to the religious groups already on campus.

Above: Shake It
Dr. Harald Menz dances in the cafeteria with an "Afrikan" performer. The Student Activities Council sponsored several events throughout the year, including this act.

Right: A New leader
President Poteat address the class of 2003 at the Baccalaureate ceremonies. The change of presidents was one of the biggest transitions Bethany College encountered in 2003.

Changing Seasons and Students

The Clarks and Antigone Rising performed for Bethany students and guests during Spring Weekend. Sponsored by SAC, both bands presented a play list that featured new and old songs that were well received by those in attendance.

Seniors

Bethany Seniors endure hard hours of study to pass comps and accept their degrees in preparation to leave Bethany.

Right: Big Smile
Graduate Sarah Beth Farmer models her cap and gown before convocation. Founder's Day Convocation is the first time the seniors don their caps and gowns.

As the final freshman class to live as one in Phillips, Harlan, and Morlan, the Class of 2003 forged a bond that some say no longer exists within the classes. During their final walk through the Oglebay Gates, the class came full circle and proved that they had become part of a new family, a Bethany family. Diversity, determination, success, and friendship served as the foundation for a class that would face challenges and triumph over them. And now, the Class of 2003 leaves Bethany to turn over a new leaf in a new world.

Above: Remember When...
Several members of the Class of 2003 enjoy class outside on a nice day during their freshman year. The senior class boasted many successes and triumphs during their four year tenure at Bethany.

Right: Senior Fellow
Communication department senior fellows Shaye Eighme and Steve Radick recognize the achievements of the senior communication majors. Senior fellows often juggled many responsibilities, not only within their department but other activities as well.

Right: They're Over!
Senior Jason Fogg proudly walks out the door after passing his comprehensive exams. Comps are a time of high stress but the feeling of accomplishment is one that cannot be matched.

Honoring a Friend

The faculty of the Communication department announced the creation of an award honoring retiring department chair James Keegan. The James Keegan Prize in International Communication will be awarded to a student who demonstrates exemplary interest and aptitude in international communication. "There is no way I can adequately express my feelings of warmth and friendship--so I simply say a sincere thank you to all my communication department colleagues," said Keegan.

Senior Running Back Will Anderson #31

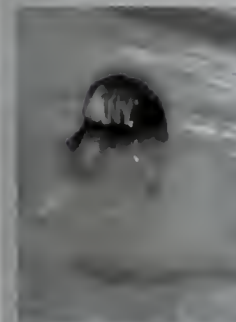

In addition to First Team All-PAC honors, Anderson was named the PAC Player of the Year. He finished his career with 4 single season records, 2 career records, and 2 conference records.

Senior Pitcher
Rachael Schafer #23 Schafer, of Pittsburgh, PA, displays the game ball with Coach Jan Forsty as they celebrate her 62nd career win. The win against Case Western was good enough to beat Jodi Jackfert's record from 1995-98.

Junior Swimmer
Kenko Nagai
In his final year at Bethany, Nagai, of Nagoya, Japan, was able to capture the PAC Championship in the 100m breaststroke with a time of 58.10 secs., good enough for 11th place in Division III.

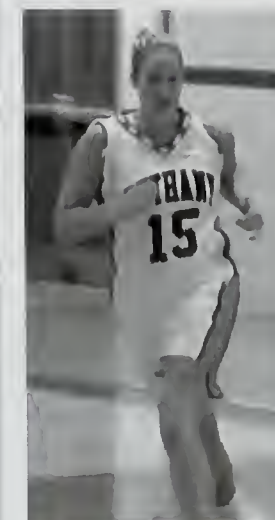

Senior Midfielder
Daniel Reinoso
In addition to being named to the First Team All-PAC, Reinoso, of Quito, Ecuador, earned the PAC Player of the Year honor for soccer. The senior midfielder led the team with 8 goals, 8 assists, and 34 points.

The 2002 and 2003 seasons brought much success for several Bison teams. 40 Bethany athletes received All-PAC honors. Also, senior Will Anderson earned the title of PAC Player of the Year for football, senior Rachael Schafer took the honor for softball, and senior Daniel Reinoso earned the title for soccer. The Bison coaching staff gained recognition as well, with PAC Coach of the Year awards going to Jan Forsty for softball, and John McGowan for both men's and women's cross country. Several athletes gained regional and national athletic and academic acclaim as well. The softball team was the sole team to win the PAC championship this year. This year marked a devastating blow to the men's soccer team, which had not lost a PAC championship in 23 years.

Going for the Goal

Women's Soccer

The women's soccer team was filled with youth, as this team was in a rebuilding year. An overall record of 4-14-1 leaves room for improvement for the fall of 2003. With the loss of four seniors to graduation, the green and white finished the Presidents Athletic Conference (PAC) with a 1-7 record. However, there were numerous upperclassmen that found their names on the all-conference list at the end of the year. Senior Missy Gibson of New Eagle, PA and juniors Lisa Claus of Easthampton, NJ and Cara Pasquinelli of Finleyville, PA were voted onto the all-conference team by the PAC coaches. Gibson was the only Bison to make first team honors for Bethany. Claus and Pasquinelli both received second team laurels.

A Tradition of Excellence

Men's Soccer

The Bethany College men's soccer team ended this season with a 10-10-2 record. It came as a great disappointment to many that the team did not win the Presidents' Athletic Conference (PAC) as they have for the last 23 years. But this record did not keep the team down.

The season was not without great accomplishment. They did have a winning record for the PAC tournament with 6 wins, 3 losses, and one tie. This record placed Bethany in third place in the league for 2002.

There were also seven men named to the league's All-PAC teams. Daniel Reinoso, of Quito, Ecuador, led three Bethany men on the first team. This was his second consecutive year named to first team and his first year as Conference Player of the Year. Alex Pentino, of Wheeling, WV was named for his fourth year. Rounding out the first team players for the Bison was Ehren Grill, from Enterprise, FL. This was his first All-PAC honor.

Leading the second team for All-PAC was Dan Irwin of Monroeville, PA. This was his first year on an All-PAC team. Papa Sane, from Dakar, Senegal, was named for his second consecutive year. Justin Kosta, of Ambridge, PA, and Mike Walters, of Stow, OH received the honor for the first time.

The head coach for the past two years has been Kosmas Mouratidis. A former Bethany man himself, Coach Mouratidis is working hard to "take Bethany back to elite status in the country."

Football

Despite a 3-7 record, the Bison football team had many successful accomplishments in the 2002 campaign. Guided by first year head coach Chris Snyder, the Bison offensive led the PAC in rushing yards per game (166.9), total offensive per game (398.8), and first downs (220). The offensive production was highlighted by Will Anderson's record setting year. Anderson set 4 single season records, including total touchdowns (15), rushing touchdowns (10), points scored (90), and rushing yards (1,186). Anderson also led the conference in scoring and all purpose yards

(1,645). Anderson, who was the PAC Player of the Year, broke the Bethany career records for rushing (2,946), and touchdowns (30). The Bison defense also had a great year and ended the season as the number one pass defense in the PAC. The defense was led by junior safety Nick Lion with 79 tackles, Senior Defensive Back Ryan Lieb with 3 interceptions, and Senior defensive lineman Dan Carter, who led the Bison with 6 sacks and 13 tackles for a loss.

Cross Country

The Bison Runners had a successful season thanks to a strong group of returning upperclassmen, and a talented group of incoming freshmen. The women's team doubled in size from the 2001 season, boosting six girls this year.

The season opener at Westminster set the pace for the season with three top-20 finishes from the Bison. Freshman Kenneth Hopper came through in 5th place, while Junior Tiffany Baumgart and Freshman Mallory Roadman topped the women's team, placing 12th and 14th respectively.

This was just the beginning of a slew of top-10 finishes for Hopper, who finished 7th at the Theil Invitational, 3rd at the Pitt-Johnstown and St. Vincent Invites, 5th at Waynesburg, 4th at W&J, and 6th at the PACs. His performance throughout the season earned Hopper the PAC Runner of the Week honor twice, and 1st Team All-PAC honors.

The women's team had a winning season with many notable finishes. But the girls were most pleased with their 1st place finish at the W&J Invitational. "We really wanted to beat Westminster now that they are officially part of the conference. We all worked hard that day and had strong races," Junior Kelly McGrew stated. The girls would top Westminster one more time, at PACs, but fall short of conference rivals Grove City. "We'll get them next year!" claims Roadman. Despite the 2nd place finish, Baumgart and Amber Platek earned 1st Team and 2nd Team All-PAC honors, respectively. This is the third time Baumgart has earned All-Conference honors. Platek joined the team late, but moved quickly from the sixth runner on the team at the beginning of the season, to finish 9th overall at PACs.

To add to the excitement of the day, Coach John McGowan earned the PAC Cross Country Coach of the Year award for both the men's and women's teams. The award, voted on by fellow coaches, meant a lot to McGowan. "It's very gratifying because the award reflects the team's performance," he explains, "our runners earned it for me."

Both teams concluded their season at the NCAA Regional Championships in Salisbury, MD. The women finished in 27th place, in front of PAC rivals Theil, Westminster, and Waynesburg. The men also topped Theil College, finishing 31st. Graduating only one senior, the Bison are looking forward to another promising season.

Women's Tennis

A Season of Success

The young, eight member 2002 Bethany College Women's Tennis Team, under head coach Jina DeRubbo, finished the season with an accomplished 5-6 record. Dedication and determination led the team to an impressive third place finish at the PAC Championships in Erie, PA in October.

The team finished behind Grove City College and Westminster College at the tournament. Freshman Hillary Norman and junior Beth Wichrowski walked away from the matches with Second Team All-PAC honors in #2 Doubles. With several team members returning, the future looks bright for Bethany tennis.

The Tradition Continues...

Women's Hoops

The women's basketball team started the 2002-2003 season off with high hopes. Returning all players from last year's squad, with the exception of one graduate, the ladies were ready to play. The girls posted a 13-2 record entering the President's Athletic Conference. Leading the way was lone senior, Kiki Cohen, and fellow captains, juniors Kelley Richardson and Katie Hardie.

Their PAC play had an abrupt end, when the Westminster Titans upset their hopes for a fifth straight PAC title. Although PAC play didn't go as intended the lady Bison showcased themselves with poise and sportsmanship. Earning PAC laurels were Cohen and Nikki Babik for honorable mention and Richardson and Hardie, who both received first team all-PAC honors.

A New Coach Leads a New Team

Men's Hoops

With the resigning of Coach Clune this fall, the Bison had to look for someone to fill his shoes. The department chose Aaron Huffman. With the loss of many starting seniors the team had a younger look to it this season. Returning starters Mike Majzun, Derek Hoffman, and Scott Johnson led the team. The season began rough, but the men were able to recover. Unable to recapture the PAC title again the Bison look hopeful for next season. Three players earned All-Conference Status: Freshman Matt Drahos, and Seniors Mike Majzun and Derek Hoffman.

Building Toward Success

Swimming & Diving

The Swimming and Diving team had a strong season this year. All twenty members of the team were an asset in the meets that were won. The female divers were led by freshman Rachel Yakubik who had an impressive first season finishing in 3rd place at the Grove City Invitational (which is held in conjunction with the PAC championships) in 1 meter diving and finishing 1st in PAC competition in 3 meter diving. She earned 2nd team all PAC honors. Joe Kennedy was the lone male diver. His first season was also a success. With a 1st place finish among the PAC divers in 1 meter diving, and an excellent finish in 3 meter diving as well, Kennedy earned himself 2nd team all PAC honors.

Junior Kenko Nagai claimed the PAC Championship in the 100-meter Breaststroke with a time of 58.10 seconds. Throughout the season, Nagai was named PAC Swimmer of the Week twice and ECAC Swimmer of the Week once. Early on in the season, freshman Dana Culbert broke the school record in the 100 meter freestyle with a time of 56.53. She barely missed all PAC honors with her finish at the championship meet in 56.42- good enough still for 4th place overall.

The men captured one win in the regular season and placed fourth over all in the PAC. The women managed two wins during the regular season and placed fourth overall in the PAC.

Johnson among top PAC athletes

Baseball

The Bison Baseball Team ended the year with a 16-23 record (8-7 in the PAC). The team had several players step up into the spotlight this year. Senior outfielder Marty Ramsey led the team with a .431 batting average. In his first year as a starter, Paul Krisanda made an immediate impact from his catching position. Krisanda led the team with 7 homeruns.

Other players that helped the Bison this year were senior outfielder Scott Johnson and junior pitchers Todd Welsh and Matt Raiti. Johnson led the PAC in stolen bases, converting on 23-25 attempts. Welsh led the pitchers in strikeouts, recording 43 in his 49 innings of work. Finally Matt Raiti assumed the role as the closer for the Bison, having 5 saves for the year.

Softball

The Bethany Softball team finished their season at NCAA Regionals where they ended a college-record 21-game winning streak with losses to Alma and Cabrini. They earned an NCAA bid for the 2nd consecutive year and the 3rd time in the program's history, and entered the tournament seeded 3rd in the Central Region, and 9th nationally.

The women had a tremendous season that climaxed when they stole the PAC championship for the 5th consecutive year. For their efforts, Coach Jan Forsty received the PAC Softball Coach of the Year award for the 9th time.

Four Bison were named to the all-PAC team. Named 1st Team All-PAC, senior pitcher Rachael Schafer of Pittsburgh, PA also earned the league's Player and Pitcher of the Year for the 2nd consecutive year. She earned 1st Team accolades all four years of her career and became the all-time leader in career victories at Bethany (63) by posting a 12-3 record in her senior season.

Joining Rachael on 1st Team was her twin sister, Amy. In grabbing her 3rd consecutive 1st Team honor, Schafer led the Bison with a .412 batting average. The final Bethany player on 1st Team, junior third baseman Janice Masters of Lansing, OH led the team and broke college single-season records with eight home runs and 48 RBIs.

Receiving Honorable Mention status was freshman left fielder Emily Patton of Poland, OH. She led the PAC with most hits (49) and most runs scored (39).

Masters and the Schafer twins also garnered First Team All-East Region honors.

Track and Field 2003

The Bethany College men's and women's track and field teams finished fifth and fourth, respectively, at the PAC Championship meet held at Westminster College.

Bethany's men were paced by a third place finish by sophomore Aaron Weathers of Monroeville, PA in the 400-meter dash with a time of 51.82 seconds. Junior Adam Llanos of Long Island City, NY grabbed fourth place in the javelin with a best effort of 149 feet, three and a half inches. Freshman Mike Reese of Warren, OH was a double scorer, as he placed fifth in the 1,500 with a time of 4:21.53 and seventh in the 800 with a time of 2:07.69.

The women's team had one conference champion, as senior Melissa White of Mt. Pleasant, PA won the pole vault with a jump of 8-6. Sophomore Ashley Dougherty of Wampum, PA placed fourth at 8-0 and freshman Tara McNeish of Greenville, PA finished fifth at 7-6. McNeish also scored points with a fifth place showing in the long jump (14-1).

Several other Bison women also scored in two events. Senior Shaye Eighme of St. Clairsville, OH grabbed fourth place in the 100 with a time of 13.45 and fifth place in the 200 with a time of 28.35. Freshman Mallory Roadman of Follansbee, WV finished fourth in the 800 (2:41.02) and 1,500 (5:24.75). Roadman also highlighted the Bison competition at the Wheeling Jesuit Invite held previously, where she won the 1,500 in a time of 5:23.33, nearly 17 seconds faster than the second- place finisher.

Freshman Liz Mowl of Moon Twp., PA earned points in the field and on the track. Her time of 2:56.82 in the 800 put her in seventh place, while a throw of 99-6 in the javelin earned her fourth. Rounding out the double scorers for the Bison was senior Samantha Martin of Washington, PA with a pair of sixth places in the discus (101-1) and shot put (31-9).

Overall, it was a successful season for the Bison.

The Shield of Kappa Delta

In spring 2002, Bethany lost one of its 10 nationally recognized Greek social organizations. The sisters of Kappa Delta "were given an ultimatum to either hand their charter back to their nationals or have it revoked," one sister explained. The campus was sympathetic of their loss, especially because of their amazing recruitment efforts and continued dedication to their philanthropies. "It was sad to see such a wonderful group of women lose their charter and something they believed so strongly in," sophomore Stefanie Panas, a member of Zeta Tau Alpha said.

In light of the increasing housing problems of a large expected freshmen class, it was decided that Delta Tau Delta would fill the vacancy on Greek Hill. The brothers had been living in the Woolery House on Old Parkinson, which was opened up to freshmen this school year.

This school year the Greek community lost another member. The brothers of Beta Theta Pi lost their national charter at the beginning of second semester.

The loss of these two organizations has caused some concern among Greeks because of a growing fear of "who is the next to go." However, despite these worries, the women boosted the strongest recruitment in years with a quota of 24. With house totals now above 70, the women are not anticipating any trouble. The only concerns now are logistical- "where are we going to fit all these girls for formal chapter?" Phi Mu president Sue Andrzejewski joked on bid night.

Greek Life at Bethany

New locations, lost charters among this year's changes

Left: Greek Unity
Beth Michalec, Katie Raynovich, and Kristy McGrew share some downtime between classes, outside Old Main.

"Greek life has been an integral part of student life at the college almost since its founding. Bethany College was founded in 1840, and the first fraternities appeared in 1858. Since that date, students involved in Greek organizations have been distinguishing themselves as leaders in the college community."

Alpha Phi Omega: A New Kind of Greek

Spring semester brought a new kind of greek organization to campus. Several students started Alpha Phi Omega, a national, co-ed, service fraternity. The group started out small, but grew throughout the semester with their pledge process. Their activities have members working on campus and in the surrounding area. During the spring semester, the group held a walk-a-thon to raise money for the Barnesville 3-C, which helps cancer patients with bills, and other necessities.

President Jacqui Simon was the one that made the initial contacts to bring the fraternity to campus. Also, Counselor Ron Rice had been interested in starting such an organization on campus, which coincided with Simon's idea. While APO is a greek organization, members of Alpha Phi Omega can also belong to social fraternities or sororities. Alpha Phi Omega was founded in 1925 at Lafayette College and is based on the leadership and service of the Boy Scouts of America. The group was originally all-male but went co-ed in 1976. Approximately 350 chapters are now on campuses throughout the United States.

Each semester the Anna Ruth Bourne and W. Kirk Woolery Scholarship cups are given to the women's and men's social group that have the highest GPA for the previous semester. In the fall, Phi Mu and Phi Kappa Tau received the honors. In the spring Phi Tau shared the honor with Alpha Xi Delta. There was some confusion because Sigma Nu actually recorded a higher GPA than Phi Tau, but the brothers were listed as having under the minimum requirement of 20 members. While they argued that their house total is indeed well above 20, the Dean of Students stated that their membership records were out dated and the award would not be revoked from Phi Tau. Here Phi Taus Steve Ochap and Ben Williams receive their cup.

In December 1845, three freshmen at Yale University wanted to establish an organization that would rival the only class fraternity on campus at that time. These men felt that their class demonstrated an attitude of superiority, especially to non-fraternity men.

Louis Manigault, Stephen Ormsby Rhea, and Horace Spangler Weiser created Alpha Sigma Phi, the 11th oldest Greek fraternity. The number of members continually grew following the initiation of the first pledge class of 14. However, the fraternity would face some hard times. In 1864, the mother chapter (Alpha chapter) at Yale University became inactive. They were succeeded by Delta Beta Xi, who secretly pledged allegiance to Alpha Sigma Phi. But, this group also became inactive. Finally, with the help of Wayne Montgomery Musgrave, Edwin Morey Waterbury, and the Delta Chapter at Marietta College, Alpha Sigma Phi survived the 1900s and flourished. This period of struggle stands as a true test of brotherhood for Alpha Sigma Phi and shows their willingness to face hardships and emerge triumphantly. As a result, the phoenix, a mythical bird that rises out of its own ashes, has become the fraternity mascot, symbolizing a perilous fight to survive. The spirit of the phoenix lives within all Alpha Sigma Phis, as they are known for their dedication, commitment, and loyalty to their fraternity, brothers, colleges, and communities.

Delta Tau Delta was founded at Bethany College. Delta Tau Delta is far more than a social organization, more than a place to live or a way to meet people.

The Deltas are different from the typical social fraternity. Delta Tau Delta fulfills many purposes, not the least of which are strengthening its members' leadership skills and helping them launch successful careers.

Delt life provides fantastic opportunities to grow and prepare its members for personal and career development. The members can utilize the Fraternity as a launching pad to prepare and set themselves apart from other students.

Delt's philanthropy includes the adoption of Route 88 for road cleanup, raising money for their adopted child in Bahulpur and donating clothes to the Salvation Army during the holiday season. The brothers also compete in the Homecoming and Greek Week events.

Kappa Alpha Order was founded on December 21, 1865 at Washington College in Lexington, Virginia. The Beta Beta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order was founded here at Bethany College in 1903. During the Spring Semester, the brothers of Beta Beta will be celebrating their 100th year at Bethany.

Many of the brothers are current or former members of the baseball team. The brothers are continuously raising money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA), Kappa Alpha philanthropy. Every August, the president of KA attend Kappa Alpha Order's National Convention/Leadership Institute. During the summer, Todd Welsh and Nick Kerber will travel to Tampa, Florida for KA's 70th National Convention.

KA's National President is currently Knight Commander David Warren. A few notable KAs are General George S. Patton, General George C. Marshall, and Tim McCarver. This spring, KA received 12 new members, one of the biggest pledge classes in the last 6-7 years.

Kappa Alpha Order seeks to create a lifetime experience which centers on reverence to God, duty, honor, character, and gentlemanly conduct as inspired by Robert E. Lee, their spiritual founder.

The brothers of Phi Kappa Tau are active on campus in both academics and athletics. They captured the Woolery cup again this year, for both semesters. The Woolery cup is the scholarship cup that honors the male social organization with the highest GPA.

Phi Tau national philanthropy is the Hole in the Wall Gang. Their mission is to "champion a lifelong commitment to brotherhood, learning, ethical leadership and exemplary character."

Phi Kappa Tau was founded in the Union Literary Society Hall of Miami University's Old Main Building in Oxford, Ohio on March 17, 1906. Founded as the Non-Fraternity Association to give Miami's non-fraternity men a voice in campus political affairs, the organization changed its name to Phrenecon on March 6, 1909 because the name Non-Fraternity Association seemed too negative.

Always Sisters. Always Friends, Always Alpha Xi

Alpha Xi Delta has been on the Bethany College campus since 1903. This year Alpha Xi Delta will be celebrating its 100 year anniversary in June.

The sisters of Alpha Xi Delta do many activities for their philanthropy, "Clothes for Children," including a Haunted House with the help of Sigma Nu, an Easter Egg Hunt for the children of Bethany, along with hand-made quilts that were delivered personally to a children's hospital.

The women continued a successful year by being named winners of Greek Sing 2002 and obtaining the prestigious Ruth Pennock Award for the fall semester for having the highest GPA on campus. Also, Kara Simmons was honored with the Francis O. Carfer Outstanding Senior Award.

Nearly 150
students graduated from Bethany
College on May 17,
2003.

At the Baccalaureate services on May 16, senior Eric Hannum began his speech with a story of a long journey he had made. He noted that near the end of his trip, one man asked him not where he was going, but from where he had come. He explained that each graduate may say something different about where they've come from, but that now they all share the common bond of being a Bethanian. He added that the only thing Bethany doesn't teach you is "how to leave." As the Class of 2003 prepared to take those next steps, they were, no doubt, filled with anxiety and excitement. Whether grad school or a job is in their future, these new Bethany alumni have reason to be anxious and excited. They are entering a new world of uncertainty, on a personal level and worldwide, with the horrors that come with war and terrorism. As Gordon Dalrymple said in his address, this is the world that Bethany graduates will face. They are the future of our country, and someday they could be responsible for decisions that will affect the entire world. Ideally, this is what Bethany has prepared them for, and we wish them the best as they begin their new journey.

In Memoriam Derek Hoffman, Class of 2003

This page is dedicated to Derek, whose life after Bethany was tragically cut short on the very day that it began. He will be fondly remembered by his Bethany family.

From the Editors, Kristy and Beth:

Our Thanks

We would like to thank our staff for their hard work and dedication throughout the crazy process that is making a yearbook. Although we got off to a slow start, you really pulled it together and we are happy to have helped you learn.

Thanks to our staff: Dan Fanciullacci, Ashley Josay, Jessica King, Dea Merenda, Abbey Otto, Stefanie Panas, Lindsey Preisendorfer, Katie Raynovich, Krystal Rigglesman, Andrew "Bunk" Rossi, and Brenda Sorice.

Special Thanks to: Dr. Gael Cooper, Wendy Caruth, Jan Forsty, Amy Housley and the TOWER staff, John McGowan, Kelly McGrew, Kosmas Mouratidis, Brian Rose, Lisa Wenner, and Ruth Westlake. Without their help, many elements of this book could not have been completed.
